EXPERIENCE

Python Developer - Student Project

John Bryce - Israel

Travel Office Website – Full Stack Student Project

Technologies: Python (Flask), PostgreSQL, React (TypeScript), CSS, Material-UI, JWT, Rest API

- Developed a full stack travel booking platform with a Flask backend and PostgreSQL database.
- Implemented user registration and authentication, enabling customers to create accounts and manage their interactions.
- Built a vacation listing system where users can browse trips, mark favorites with a “like” feature, and interact with personalized content.
- Designed and integrated an admin panel for managing vacation records (create, edit, delete) with secure access controls.
- Added analytics and reporting features, providing administrators with insights into user activity, popular vacations, and booking trends.
- Designed a responsive, modern UI with React (TypeScript), Material-UI, and custom CSS for optimal user experience.
- Focused on scalability, maintainability, and clear separation of concerns, ensuring a professional architecture.
